- A. Discussion: Draft belief Statements, we agreed that we would leave the draft as it stands now, and revisit after our small group discussions to see if our statements change with our work.
- B. Timeline and Subcommittee Meetings. We will report back to the large group on our regular scheduled meeting dates. Each group will meet and utilize the research, “quality education for Claremont”, and bring back to the whole group by April. There was much discussion on what the “product” should look like. Do we have it mapped out on paper, do we give general statements, just what are we to bring back to the large group. Jack Mills, PhD. Gave a general overview of what the Board of Education is looking for in terms of direction. In brief, the group felt that our work in the subcommittees, will assist us in getting to that final draft for the BOE.
